Dear Leon

I thought you should know that Commerce Cleaning is more than satisfied with the range of Ha-Ra products.

We first started using Ha-Ra products in October 1998 and were one of the first larger scale commercial cleaning businesses in Australia to include them as a standard part of our equipment pack. Since then we have trained about 300 cleaners to use the products.

Over the years we have always been impressed with the high standard of manufacture of these items and have never had a problem with any of them. They have consistently withstood the hard wear and abuse that commercial cleaners subject them to. Many of the first gloves and cloths purchased in 1998 are still in use today. All the floor frames and extension poles have lasted for years without any problems.

We have been particularly happy with the window cleaning system in the range. This system has proven itself to be practical and effective for most medium and small scale commercial cleaning work.

Given the quality of the product, its versatility and effectiveness in use and the lifespan compared to other similar or imitation products, we believe Ha-Ra provides us with great value for money.

I hope sales of Ha-Ra products continue to grow for you.

Yours Sincerely

Alan Duggan
Director
